New powers help to tackle fly-tippers

by Simon Banks

THE ROYAL borough has used new powers to seize vehicles suspected of dumping waste illegally as part of its ongoing crackdown on fly-tipping

Now a silver Ford transit van is set to be destroyed after the driver failed to show a waste carriers licence and the owner failed to come forward.

The vehicle was seized in Griffin Road, Plumstead, last month by royal borough enviro-crime enforcement officers after it was found to contain scrap metal items including an oven, pedal bike, microwave and various other tools.

Under new powers, which came into force in April, the council can immediately seize a vehicle suspected of dumping, carrying or collecting waste material if the driver hasn't got a waste carriers licence. Previously enforcement officers had to apply to the court for a forfeiture order which could take time.

Last year 14,503 fly-tips were removed from local streets and open spaces by the council, adding up to an unsightly 730 tonnes of waste, costing around £210,000 to collect and dispose of.

Cllr Jackie Smith, the council's cabinet member for community safety and environment said: "The council is committed to reducing the impact of fly-tipping both in terms of cost and the impact to the environment. The new law gives us a lot more flexibility and control over people collecting, dumping or transporting waste illegally. The council will not tolerate fly-tipping in

Disappointed theatre sacrificed for flats

IT was good to see in GT 22/9/15 that Eltham is to get a new cinema complex but ironic that this news came in the same week that work started on the demolition of the Grand Theatre, Woolwich, to make way for a block of flats.

The Grand Theatre, which also had an existence as 'The Hippodrome' and the ABC Regal Cinema, stands in Wellington Street next to the Town Hall, opposite the new Woolwich Centre library and round the corner from Greenwich University's drama department in Bathway at the heart of Woolwich's civic and cultural area.

Apart from a cinema screen the Grand Theatre boasted a stage and back of house facilities – dressing rooms etc
It is tragic that this theatre/cinema is being sacrificed to provide yet another block of flats, which are being provided on such a massive scale in the royal borough by developments at the Peninsula, Royal Arsenal and in Central Woolwich, when it should have been at the heart of Woolwich's cultural rebirth.

Andrew Bullivant, Woolwich

● A council spokesperson said: 'The proposals for the Eltham Cinema agreed by Planning Board earlier this month will be a tremendous addition to the Eltham offer. The Woolwich Grand was not a council building and in a very poor state of repair and, despite various attempts, was unable to be brought back into use. Therefore, a scheme to redevelop the site to provide residential accommodation with non-residential use on the ground floor, was agreed by Planning Board last year. In relation to the wider Woolwich area, the council is keen to ensure the ongoing vitality of the Town Centre. Earlier this year the council adopted a more detailed plan for 'Spray Street' - one of the key sites in and around the Town Centre. These plans include proposals for a new cinema on the site. It is expected that a planning application to include these proposals will come forward earlier next year. Greenwich is expected to see its population rise from 250,000 in 2015 to 370,000 in 2025. The increase is a result of the borough being a sought after place to live with great transport links opening up the jobs market across London.'

Thanks for story on police cadets

THANK you for printing the report and photos of the Mayor, Cllr Adams, visiting Greenwich Volunteer Police Cadets (GT September 15). We have had several enquiries as a result of the article. Greenwich VPC is not a vehicle for police recruitment. Our aim is to create, 'Good Young Citizens' who are confident and have a willingness to volunteer. At present we have 120 young people from 10 to 18 years but intend expanding to 160 by the end of the year. We meet at St Paul's Academy, Abbey Wood from 7 to 9pm on Wednesdays for 13 to 18 year olds. Junior Cadets who are aged 10 to 12 meet at 5.30 to 6.30pm and both units are open to anyone who lives or is educated in the Royal Borough of Greenwich. We also have a 'Corps of Drums' who practise on Tuesdays at 6pm at St Paul's. An exciting new development is the opening of two new Junior Cadet units at Thomas Tallis and The John Roan schools, for students from those schools as part of the schools 'enrichment' programmes. If anyone is interested in visiting to observe a Cadet evening meeting, please email me on andrew.harris@met.police.uk or phone on 07825 042853.

Smart move

Council plans to improve services through technology

by Dick Townsend-Smith

THE council has agreed a strategy for moving into the digital age by incorporating the latest digital technology into all aspects of life in the royal borough.

The far-reaching proposals will help establish Greenwich as a 'smart' city and build on its growing reputation as a leader in 'smart city' innovation.

The Cabinet agreed to publish the borough's Smart City Strategy to reinforce the council's position as a leader in smart city innovation and help attract investment and businesses to the borough.

The strategy is all about the way the council plans and delivers its services, how it works with local communities, and how neighbourhoods can work better. It looks at how digital technologies can be used to engage more effectively with residents and how it can save time, energy and the environment through improved efficiency across all aspects of living and working in the borough.

The council has already led on creating a digital hub on the Greenwich

Secondary school place deadline approaching

PARENTS of children due to transfer from primary to secondary school in September 2016 have until October 31 to apply for a place.

Parents are reminded that it pays to have a good look around and get as informed as possible before deciding on a secondary school for their child. This month secondary schools are hosting open days to highlight what they offer to prospective pupils.

Cllr John Fahy, cabinet member for children's services, said: "The council is committed to working with local secondary schools to ensure that young people in Greenwich have the best possible start in life. Pupils studying in the royal borough have access to excellent learning opportunities and in our latest GCSE results, the proportion of Greenwich students passing at A* - C remains above the national rate and this includes English and Maths. I highly recommend that parents attend open days, which will allow them to explore all the opportunities available and learn what secondary education means for their children."

The council website has a range of resources including the application form, a link to the online eAdmissions website, and a timetable of school open days.

ROYAL BOROUGH OF GREENWICH

A social engagement

WOOLWICH'S General Gordon Square hosts a showcase of social enterprises on Saturday (Oct 10). The second annual Social Saturday will see a range of organisations come together to highlight the significance of social enterprises and support the sector's growth on a local level.

A social enterprise is a business that trades for a social and/or environmental purpose and involves investing profits in projects that support the local community, international development and charities.

Stallholders will include Lucky Brake, SMaRT Garage Services and Coffee Ethic, a social enterprise that provides opportunities for people who have experienced mental illness. The event kick-starts a six week promotion of activity in the borough to support the growth of local social enterprises.

Cllr Sizwe James, the council's cabinet member for business, employment and skills said: "The council is backing Social Saturday and remains committed to supporting the royal borough's social enterprises. Supporting this sector is an important part of our anti-poverty strategy as 50 per cent of social enterprises employ at least one person facing additional barriers to employment.

"There are currently around 200 social enterprises operating in the royal borough, placing them at the forefront of economic recovery and job creation."

*Social Saturday runs alongside a series of workshops and activities to celebrate World Mental Health Day – for more information see page 6.

Archie's balloon story got more people writing

WRITE LINES:
The Mayor with winners Jane Lawson, Gaynor Wingham, Nick Thrupp and runner up Patricia Latter

THE first short story competition organised by the Art Plumstead group attracted entries from as far away as Ireland and the United States.

The international take-up is thought to have been sparked after the group put the story of a five-year-old boy called Archie on their Facebook page. Archie, also from Plumstead, had taken part in a balloon race, and the card attached to his balloon was picked up by a woman in the Netherlands.

Alison Miller, the group's writer, said: "We asked on Facebook for people to contact us if they found the balloon and card, and the Dutch woman did. This was shared 100,000 times, and we asked people to enter our competition if they had been inspired by Archie's story.

"We were pleasantly surprised by the number of entries we received."

The entries were judged by Alison, along with Plumstead Library manager Subrata Baidya, and writer Lucy Raby, author of 'Nikolai of the North', which is currently in pre-production at Pinewood Studios. Lucy said: "There was a fantastically imaginative response to interpreting the competition theme of 'Renewal'. An intriguing set of stories with interesting characters and insight into the lives of others, which is what good writing, is all about."

The winners' prizes of book tokens and certificates were presented by the Mayor of Royal Greenwich, Cllr Norman Adams. First prize went to Jane Lawson, second to Gaynor Wingham, and third to Nick Thrupp. Runners-up were Anne Leighton and Patricia Latter. Art Plumstead plans to publish the stories next year.

The Big London ENERGY SWITCH

A scheme to help Londoners get a better deal on their gas and electricity bills

Over 5000 Greenwich residents have registered for the Big London Energy Switch since the scheme began. The results from February 2015 were the best yet – with average savings in Greenwich of over £250 and winning tariffs better than anything available direct from suppliers or via price comparison services.

How does the scheme work?

Ⓔ The Big London Energy Switch is a collective switching scheme being run by the Royal Borough of Greenwich and a number of other councils in London

Ⓔ By gathering together a large number of people who want to lower their gas and electricity bills the Big London Energy Switch, using a third party 'switching provider', can encourage energy companies to offer their lowest prices

Ⓔ Once registration is closed, all the energy companies are invited to offer their best prices to everyone who registered

Ⓔ You will then receive details of exactly how much money you could potentially save by switching if you accept the offer

Ⓔ You can choose to accept the offer or not

Sign up online at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/biglondonenergyswitch or call 020 8921 5100 to find out about other ways to register

The deadline for registration is 12th October 2015

Are you paying too much for your gas and electricity?

The sun shines on Mulgrave

THE HEAT IS ON: Mulgrave pupils appeal for investors for the school's solar panel project

CHILDREN at Mulgrave Primary School have been learning about climate change and how they can take responsibility for the environment - now the school is set to go one step further by installing solar panels.

The Woolwich school has been working with South East London Community Energy (SELCE), a not-for-profit group combatting climate change. Together they appealed to investors to help finance the solar panels as part of an innovative scheme.

During a special ceremony last week, the school's eco-team of pupils spoke about climate change while the school's choir sang for guests, who included SELCE reps, businesses and the royal borough's cabinet member for children's services, Cllr John Fahy.

Under the scheme SELCE obtain funding from community investors to install the solar panels. The school receives the electricity generated at a reduced price while any surplus is fed back into the grid and generates income under the Feed in Tariff. Money made from the savings and the generated electricity is used as a return for investors.

Mulgrave is the first primary school to take up the proposal and SELCE hope the scheme will appeal to other schools.

The aim is to install solar panels on the roof of the school before Christmas, reducing electricity bills by thousands of pounds in the process while also cutting the carbon footprint of the school too.

Pupils have been learning about the environment in Education for sustainable development (ESD) classes. The lessons contain elements of science, geography, history and PSHE and help youngsters learn how to take care of the world around them as well as becoming more responsible, caring citizens.

Mulgrave was also part of a campaign against the use of fossil fuels earlier this year, called the 'Keep it in the ground' project, in partnership with the Guardian newspaper.

Headteacher Dr David Dixon told GT: "The children learn about renewable energy and sustainable development during lesson time. As part of this, they will now be able to learn first-hand about the role of solar panels and how they can help the environment."

"The school has a strong ethos which encourages the children and community to protect the environment in practical ways. With the installation of solar panels, the school sends out a powerful message about the importance of reducing the burning of fossil fuels which are contributors to climate change. We hope more businesses, community centres and schools in the royal borough follow suit."

Councillor John Fahy, the Royal Borough's Cabinet Member for Children's Services and Deputy Leader of the Council, said: "The SELCE solar panels are a fantastic community asset that will benefit the schools by providing cheap energy bills, as well as raising awareness and encouraging debate amongst our young students about climate change. From their performance today, you can already tell how passionate and knowledgeable they are about the issues surrounding climate change. By creating an environmentally friendly learning culture for our children, who are our leaders of the future, we are changing the attitudes of people toward climate change for the better."

ROYAL borough of GREENWICH

All in the mind

IT'S all about your peace of mind at a series of exciting workshops and activities for World Mental Health Day this Saturday.

The event, in Woolwich's General Gordon Square, is designed to get people talking about mental health, and is hosted by Greenwich mental health and wellbeing forum – with the royal borough and NHS Greenwich Clinical Commissioning Group working alongside a number of local organisations such as Oxleas NHS Trust, Greenwich Mind, and Time to Talk.

There will be stalls, reflexivity, exhibitions and performances including the Oxleas Band, singer Septimus Prime and Greenwich Mind Choir. There's a chance to exercise with Greenwich Get Active who will be hosting Tai Chi, line dancers and Disney Shakeup for Kids. A special film will be shown on the big screen, aimed at getting people talking about mental health.

Cllr Denise Scott-McDonald, the council's cabinet member for community wellbeing and public health said: "The positive mental health and well-being of our residents is a priority for the council.

"Most people at some time in their lives may experience depression, anxiety or stress. World Mental Health Day at General Gordon Square will showcase a range of services designed to ensure that people in the royal borough are supported in all their mental health needs."

Katy Grazebrook, consultant clinical psychologist, from Greenwich Time To Talk, added: "The event will be a real celebration of wellbeing on World Mental Health Day. It will contribute to the enormous strides the royal borough is making in increasing public awareness about the importance of paying attention to mental health."

Top policeman thanks Joshua

GREENWICH Police Cadet Joshua Robertson is presented with a Royal Humane Society bravery award by the Met Commissioner, Sir Bernard Hogan-Howe, for rescuing an elderly woman from a burning house in Eltham.

Joshua was just 15 and on his newspaper round when he saw thick black smoke coming from her house in Alderwood Road. The voluntary police cadet knocked on the door and found the kitchen was in flames and filled with black smoke. The woman was distressed and would not leave the house, so Joshua alerted neighbours, who raised the alarm. He then went back in and had to take hold of her firmly to get her through the front door.

The woman and Joshua were taken to Queen Elizabeth Hospital and treated for smoke inhalation. Joshua said: "I feel very happy and proud that I was able to help save her life. I don't think she would have left her house without my help. I'm quite overwhelmed to receive this award, and to have it presented by the Commissioner is the icing on the cake."

Greenwich Borough Commander Helen Millichap said: "I am immensely proud that this brave and selfless young man is a cadet here in Greenwich and part of our police family. His commendation is well deserved and his calm, quick-thinking approach kept a vulnerable resident safe from harm. He is part of a fantastic team of cadets who support our community in many different ways, and who are an incredible asset to our borough."

PC Andy Harris, the local cadets' co-ordinator, said I'm pleased that Joshua was able to recall lessons learned as a Volunteer Police Cadet, and the presence of mind to apply them to this 'real world' critical situation. Joshua tells me that whenever he sees the lady's family they rush over, hug him and thank him for saving her life."

WELL DONE LAD: Joshua receives his award from the capital's top cop

Apprentices appreciated

APPRENTICES from the royal borough were awarded for going above and beyond the call of duty at the London Councils Apprenticeships Awards.

They attended a presentation ceremony at the Barclays building in Canary Wharf on Wednesday (September 23) where they were recognised by the council association for their hard work and high level of achievements day in and day out.

Twenty-four year old John Cummins, an apprentice in the royal borough's Housing Support Team won the award for 'Best Contribution from a Newcomer' while Claire Tugwell was awarded 'Best Manager and Mentor,' for demonstrating a passion for helping others.

An apprentice in the royal borough's Housing Support Team, John's role is to support residents over the age of 55 with housing needs such as issues with homelessness and council tax. John quickly developed the skills and knowledge that enabled him to progress quickly. Quite early in his apprenticeship John became involved in a complex case in which an elderly resident was unable to return to his home due to a number of issues. John provided the careful management and support needed to ensure the man's safe return to his home.

The judging panel chose John because of his desire to go above and beyond his job role to a support local resident with an impressive level of professionalism for a Level 2 apprentice.

John told GT: "I have never won anything before and I felt a sense of pride when I collected the award. I'm humbled to have been nominated by my department after the hard work I have put in over the year. It inspires me to keep working hard and see where the apprenticeship can take me."

Claire was recognised for her decision to recruit apprentices who had used the homelessness services, were care leavers or long term unemployed and voluntarily took the lead in managing the apprenticeship scheme, in addition to her job managing six staff in the Welfare Reform Team.

One of the apprentices who nominated her said: "Claire is a wonderful apprentice manager and mentor. There was a time when I was facing difficulties and didn't see a point to continuing my placement. She was able to help me and encouraged me to go forward and I am grateful that she did because if she hadn't I wouldn't be where I am now."

- Support the creation of new jobs and homes

Our scheme includes a proposal to introduce a charge to use the Blackwall and Silvertown Tunnels. This would help manage traffic-flow and fund the new tunnel.

Nice try from mascots

MASCOTS IN ACTION: l-r Louis Harrison, Harvey Jeffery, Felix Burrows, Malachi Hallett and Louis, far right Malachi

by Simon Banks

FOUR young rugby players have won a place in sporting history as mascots leading the world's finest teams onto the pitch for the Rugby World Cup.

The boys are all part of the Blackheath Rugby Club Under-13s team and are among 96 mascots at the tournament.

Harvey Jeffery, Felix Burrows, Malachi Hallett, and Louis Harrison, won their places after auditions at the Wasps Land Rover Cup, a tournament which their team won in September last year.

So far, Felix has travelled to Cardiff to lead Canada out against tough opponents Ireland at the Millennium Stadium; Harvey marched onto the iconic Olympic Stadium in Stratford with the French national team ahead of a clash against Romania. Louis led Ireland out in Stratford against Italy.

Malachi, a pupil at Greenwich Free School, is set to become the mascot at the first quarterfinal match on October 17. He said: "My friends and I were all very surprised because we were all just enjoying ourselves when we did the audition. It's not everyday that you get to walk out with a national team in front of thousands of people in a Rugby World Cup competition at Twickenham. I'm so excited!"

His mum, Christine added: "We have a fantastic set of boys at Blackheath Rugby Club and to have four out of the 96 mascots from our under-13s team is a big achievement."

Louis' dad, Steven Harrison, said: "It's a great achievement for the boys. They are the cheekiest players in the team and like to cause mischief which is what makes them so popular at the club and helps pick up the team spirit each week, and they deserve their moment in the spotlight."

Former Rugby World Cup winner Lewis Moody who was on the mascots selection panel said: "It's a once in a lifetime opportunity for youngsters to be at the very heart of the biggest occasion in the rugby calendar. There is no greater honour than walking out for your country during a Rugby World Cup, so for the lucky mascots who have been selected, it's a truly memorable experience."

Save time online

Did you know that in the last three months over 1,300 waste sacks were bought by local residents online? And since February of this year, over 1,500 residential parking permits have been renewed using the council's website?

All sorts of services are now accessible at the most convenient time for residents thanks to improvements to the website. More and more new services are becoming available online and the website is now easier than ever to use on mobile phones, tablets and iPads as well as laptops and computers.

New online forms to request, report or pay for a service now go straight to the appropriate team. It eliminates the need for customers to print off paper forms and send them by post and means your request or report can go straight to the people who can help.

More design changes will follow this year with regular updates to the website – all aimed at helping local people contact the council more easily.

Enabling customers to do business online wherever possible is not only convenient for residents – it helps the council keep costs down.

The development of the council's website has ensured that its popularity has increased. During the past 12 months there were over 3.4 million visits to the royal borough's website – over 45 per cent of these visits were made from a mobile or tablet device and 74 per cent of visits came via a search engine such as Google.

Cllr Maureen O' Mara, the council's cabinet member for online services said: "I am delighted to see continued improvements to the Royal Greenwich website and the increased range of services that are now available online. It's vital that local people have quick and direct access to the council's services and value for money is provided for residents."

"More and more residents and businesses are now using the site to do business with the council, particularly as services can be accessed at all times, and it is now even easier to use on mobile devices. We will continue to develop the site and improve the range of services for the benefit of customers."

Better for businesses

LOCAL firms are also benefiting from being able to do business with the council online, with skip and scaffolding licences, planning applications and parking permit renewals just some of the new services available on the council's website.

One local business making use of such online services is Martin Arnold – a chartered surveyors based at the Royal Arsenal, Woolwich. The firm employs 78 people, most are local residents, and the company is also one of the leading local businesses to introduce the Living Wage for employees.

Senior partner Jim Martin spoke about the benefits of the council's online services for Martin Arnold. He said: "As a firm of chartered surveyors specialising in quantity and building surveyors, the council's planning portal is an essential business tool – not just for us but for companies across the industry – it's a vital professional asset. We are in contact with the council almost on a daily basis through this."

"Our business and planners in general couldn't work any other way. The Royal Greenwich website is fast and a solid site and there are no complaints about it from here. We access the site as a local business and use services such as parking, waste disposal, upcoming works and general information."

DANCE fans can learn to Lindy Hop at a new series of dance sessions at Greenwich Dance to celebrate Black History Month.

Jiving Lindy hopper Temujin Gill leads the dance on a Thursday evening at The Borough Hall in Greenwich.

Temujin has led Greenwich Dance's popular Lindy Hop classes for a number of years and will now host the first ever Social Dance Thursday on October 8. It's a chance for people to pick-up new moves, practice, socialize and experience the dance style, swinging the night away in Greenwich Dance's spectacular dance hall. Greenwich Dance spokesperson Amy Thoburn-Pallant said: "The history of Lindy Hop arguably began in the African American communities of places such as Harlem, New York during the late 1920s, but the roots of the dance-form lie much deeper. The style became particularly popular in the 1930s gaining fame from films, performances, competitions, and professional dance troupes such as Whiteys Lindy Hoppers. Although the popularity of Lindy Hop declined after World War II the dance was revived by European and American dancers in the 1980s and still remains a thriving dance style today."

Social Dance Thursdays: Lindy Hop with Temujin Gill starts on October 8, 7.30-9.30PM, £10/ £7.50 concs. Book online at greenwichdance.org.uk or call 020 8293 9741.

ENGINEERING enthusiasts can build and construct working models of all types at the capital's most popular Meccano show which returns to Eltham United Reformed Church for the 37th year. There will be three halls packed with working Meccano models of trains, planes, cranes and fairground rides from 10.30am-4.30pm on Saturday October 10. Visitors can also buy Meccano sets and parts, enter a raffle and relax with hot and cold refreshments. The event is hosted by SELMEC - the South East London Meccano Club formed in 1976 to give Meccano enthusiasts a chance to meet and swap ideas. Foudler and secretary Chris Warrell said: "Frank Hornby, a businessman from Liverpool, invented three of the 20th century's most popular toys: Meccano, Hornby Trains and Dinky Toys. His Meccano construction system, patented in 1901, consists of metal strips, plates, girders, wheels and gears which can be bolted together to build virtually anything the model builder can imagine." Admission is £3, accompanied children Free, unaccompanied children £1. Visit www.selmec.org.uk or visit londonmeccanoclub.org.uk

Royal Borough of Greenwich's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 462

BIDDING FOR PROPERTIES

People on the Housing register are able to bid for all properties, regardless of their banding. You must be eligible for the size of property and bids will be considered in the following order:

First Band A, followed by Band B both in priority date order.
Those in Band C will then be considered in registration date order.

Please note that there will still be some properties with age restrictions so only people of this age group can apply for these.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free at either The Eltham or Woolwich Centre or a local library.

Apply in one of three ways

- Text bidding is now available and the number to use is 07786207913. For further information please see page 2, or
- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

The next edition of GreenwichHomes will be available on Wednesday 14 October 2015 at midday. Closing date for all applications for this issue is midnight on Sunday 11 October 2015.

SECTION 48 PLANNING ACT 2008

REGULATION 4 INFRASTRUCTURE PLANNING (APPLICATIONS: PRESCRIBED FORMS AND PROCEDURE) REGULATIONS 2009

PROPOSED SILVERTOWN TUNNEL

NOTICE PUBLICISING A PROPOSED APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER

Transport for London (TfL) of Windsor House, 42-50 Victoria Street, London SW1H 0TL intends to make an application to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government ('the proposed application') for a development consent order made under the Planning Act 2008 authorising the construction, operation and maintenance of a twin bore road tunnel beneath the river Thames known as the Silvertown Tunnel ('the project'). If constructed, the project would be located in the London Boroughs of Greenwich, Tower Hamlets and Newham and it would include the following elements:

- twin road tunnels approximately 1.4km long under the river Thames linking the A102 Blackwall Tunnel Approach on the Greenwich Peninsula to the A1020 Tidal Basin Roundabout in the Royal Docks area;
- a tunnel approach road on the north side of the river Thames to connect the new tunnels to the Tidal Basin Roundabout, which would be altered to create a new signal-controlled roundabout linking the A1020 Silvertown Way, Dock Road and the A1020 Lower Lea Crossing;
- widening of the A102 Blackwall Tunnel Approach on the south side of the river Thames to create new free-flow slip-road links to the Silvertown Tunnel;
- a new flyover to take southbound traffic exiting the Blackwall Tunnel over the northbound approach to the Silvertown Tunnel;
- replacement of the Boord Street footbridge over the A102 with a new pedestrian and cycle bridge;
- the introduction of road user charging for the Silvertown Tunnel and the Blackwall Tunnel;
- tunnel service buildings, plant rooms and ventilation buildings at each tunnel portal;
- modifications to the local road network including changes to Dock Road, Tunnel Avenue, Pavilion Way, Dreadnought Street and Boord Street; and
- works to facilitate the construction of the elements described above, including:
 - creation of construction sites and accesses from the public highway;
 - construction of a temporary jetty and associated works in the river Thames at Thames Wharf to be used for the import and export of materials from the construction sites;
 - provision of new utilities and services and diversion of existing utilities; and
 - provision of drainage, lighting, noise and visual screens, and hard and soft landscaping.

The proposed application will also seek authorisation for the compulsory acquisition of interests in and rights over land, the temporary use of land and the overriding of easements and other rights.

Consultation booklet

TfL is consulting on the proposed application and has prepared a booklet summarising the project. The consultation booklet is available between 5 October and 29 November 2015 as follows:

1. to view on the project website (www.tfl.gov.uk/silvertown-tunnel);
2. to take away free of charge from the inspection locations and the Roadshow events listed below;
3. to take away free of charge from libraries and community centres in the London Boroughs of Greenwich, Newham and Tower Hamlets, and additionally in Children's Centres in the Royal Borough of Greenwich, the Emirates Air Line Cable Car and the Siemens Crystal building. For more details please see the Silvertown Tunnel Statement of Community Consultation (available to view on the project website) or contact TfL using the contact details at the end of this notice; and
4. to order in hard copy from TfL using the contact details at the end of this notice.

Preliminary environmental information report and other consultation documents

The proposed project is 'EA development' for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. TfL is therefore required to carry out an environmental impact assessment and submit an Environmental Statement with the proposed application containing information about the likely significant effects of the project on the environment. Information compiled so far about the project's likely significant environmental effects is set out for consultation in a Preliminary Environmental Information Report ('the PEIR').

The PEIR and other documents, plans and maps which detail the nature and location of the project ('the consultation documents') are available for inspection free of charge from 5 October to 29 November 2015:

Respondents do not have to provide any personal information, but this information will help TfL to understand the range of responses, and to provide updates about the project and the outcome of the consultation.

The deadline for receipt of responses is midnight on 29 November 2015.

Twin wins for Plumstead Runners

HOME AND AWAY: members of the Plumstead Runners on a previous marathon in Berlin and in training in Greenwich

SUPER runners marked a special milestone on completion of their 25th marathon in Berlin.

The 26-mile race was part of a unique exchange between the royal borough and its twin town of Reinickendorf in the north west of the city.

The Plumstead Club has been friends with the LG Pegasos Running Club in Berlin since 1990 when the council advertised for a local running club to join a twinning initiative as part of Greenwich's twinning relationship with Reinickendorf.

As part of the exchange, runners from the royal borough travelled to the German capital to run in the Berlin Marathon and in return the Berlin runners travelled to Greenwich to take part in the London Marathon.

Ten runners from the Plumstead Runners took part in the Berlin Marathon on the weekend of Saturday September 26: Gina Little, Paul Hiles, Tony Warnes, Richard Vero, Felicity Wheeler, Judith Wheeler and Ian Scott.

In the early years of the partnership, the Plumstead Runners stayed in a boat house owned on a lake in Reinickendorf. In later years, friends from the Pegasos club helped accommodate them in apartments in Berlin. The clubs make one another feel welcome at social gatherings in both London and Berlin too.

Gina Little has been part of the Plumstead Runners for over 25 years, and told GT: "I was one of the original runners to go to Berlin and have ran it every year since. If you run the Berlin Marathon 10 times you get your own number for life. I love running the Berlin Marathon, the atmosphere is always amazing and it has really wide streets so that you have the chance to really explore Berlin as a city”

Richard Vero, the club's chairman said: "This was my third Berlin Marathon and I feel privileged to run in this fantastic event. Each time we are so welcomed by our running colleagues in LG Pegasos. The city is such a wonderful place to visit, there is so much to see and explore - even with sore legs after the 26.2 miles. Long may this relationship continue."
